

Patricia K. Wagner

Chief Executive Officer

Southern California Gas Company

Patricia K. Wagner is chief executive officer (CEO) of Southern California Gas Company (SoCalGas), a Sempra Energy regulated California utility. Sempra Energy is a San Diego-based Fortune 500 energy services holding company whose subsidiaries provide electricity, natural gas and value-added products and services. The Sempra Energy companies' 17,000 employees serve more than 32 million consumers worldwide. SoCalGas is the nation's largest natural gas distribution utility, serving 21.6 million consumers through 5.9 million meters in more than 500 communities.

Wagner joined Sempra Energy in 1995 and has since held several leadership positions including president and CEO of Sempra U.S. Gas & Power, where she was responsible for the company's U.S. renewable energy business and non-California natural gas assets. Other positions include vice president of audit services for Sempra Energy, vice president of accounting and finance for SoCalGas, vice president of information technology for SoCalGas and San Diego Gas & Electric (SDG&E) and vice president of operational excellence transformational program for SoCalGas and SDG&E. She has also served in key management roles at SoCalGas and SDG&E in gas distribution operations and customer services.

Previously, she held management positions at Fluor Daniel. She has also worked for McGaw Laboratories and Allergan Pharmaceuticals.

Wagner serves on the board of directors of Apogee Enterprises, Inc. and is a former board member of the Classroom of the Future Foundation and member of the Los Angeles Economic Development Corporation. She has also volunteered with the Girl Scouts of America.

Wagner holds a master's degree in business administration from Pepperdine University and a bachelor's degree in chemical engineering from California State Polytechnic University, Pomona.